

TOOL // Primary Poster Self-Assessment

What is it used for?

The self-assessment tool allows the students to think critically about their product and to self-assess using specific criteria.

How do you use it?

The criteria is reviewed with the students prior to beginning the project with reference to models/exemplar. When students have completed their product, they use the success criteria and star rating system to self-assess their work. The teacher can make clarifying comments at the bottom and this is attached to their product and shared with parents.

How do you adapt it to other subjects and topics?

The form and star rating system can be used for any type of self-assessment by adapting the success criteria.
